 Brussels I Regulation (Reg 44/2001): jurisdiction and recognition & enforceability of judgments in civil and commercial matters (since 1973)

COMPLEMENTED BY:

- EEO Regulation (Reg 805/2004): European enforcement order for uncontested claims (since 2005)
- EPO Regulation (Reg 1896/2006) and Small Claims Regulation (Reg 861/2007): European procedures

A bit of history: the Brussels I « regime »

- 1957 Objective: uniform and coherent system for the free movement of judgments (seen as necessary for sound operation of internal market)
- Free movement of judgments easily achieved if the power of foreign judges to review the judgment of which recognition and enforcement is sought is kept to a minimum
- This in turn is easily achieved if uniform jurisdiction rules are adopted

The 1968 Brussels I Convention & EC Regulation 44/2001 (Brussels I Regulation)

- Structured as a double instrument:
  - o jurisdiction rules harmonised and
  - system for the semi-automatic recognition and enforceability for Contracting State judgments established)
- Is applicable today between all 27 (soon 28) EU
   MS
- The interpretation is given in light of the principles and objectives of the Regulation: in particular the principles of
  - MUTUAL TRUST and
  - LEGAL CERTAINTY

Background to the Small Claims Regulation (1)

- The Brussels I Reg harmonised Jurisdiction grounds and simplified but maintained exequatur (procedure leading to a declaration of enforceability)
- This leads to delays and costs
- These consequences are particularly difficult to accept as regards claims of a small importance

Background (2)

- 8
- Procedural law is not harmonised in the EU –
   States apply their own procedural rules.
- Not all States have simplified procedures for small claims and if they do, these vary considerably (in terms of costs, speed, threshold, requirements etc)
- This results in an uneven access to justice of EU citizens and a distortion of competition within the internal market

The Origins

- Tampere Conclusions (1999): mutual recognition should become the cornerstone of judicial cooperation in civil matters
- Commission Green Paper (2002)
- Commission proposal (2004)
- Hague Programme (2004) '...work to be Actively pursued..'

Regulation (EC) 861/2007

ESTABLISHING

EUROPEAN SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE

Policy Objectives

- Simplification and acceleration of procedures for small consumer and business claims (Tampere)
- Facilitation of access to justice
- Reduction of cost
- Rectification of distortions in functioning of the internal market
- Abolition of exequatur for judgments given in that procedure

Small Claims Regulation (EC) 861/2007

- Adopted in co-decision with the European Parliament 11 July 2007
- Applies as from 1st January 2009
- Applies in all EU MS except Denmark
- Review planned by 1st January 2014

Overview

- Reg 861/2007 creates an optional (art 1(2)) inexpensive, fast track- European procedure.
- This procedure only applies to cross-border cases (art 3) in civil and commercial matters
- The Reg permits the free circulation of small claim judgment obtained on the basis of a harmonised, European procedure (compliance with which renders intermediate proceedings unnecessary)

Seven principles

- Essentially a written procedure (unless oral hearing deemed necessary by court)
- Time limits for speed
- Procedure based on 4 standard forms & IT use encouraged
- No need for a lawyer
- Restriction on awards of costs
- Court empowered to direct procedure
- No intermediate measures

Review Article 18

2 possible outcomes

- 1. Court rejects the review because none of the grounds apply
  - > ESC judgment remains in force
- 2. Court decides that the review is justified
  - > ESC judgment is null and void

Pending the application for review in the MSO, the enforcement may be stayed or limited in the MSE

Enforcement : Principle Articles 15 and 20 to 22

- Judgment is enforceable notwithstanding a possible appeal
- No need for a declaration of enforceability of the foreign ESC judgment (treated as domestic judgment if certificate and copy of judgment is provided)

- Enforcement proceeds under the law of the State of enforcement

Enforcement: Stay or Limitation Article 23

  - Under exceptional circumstances, stay the enforcement proceedings

Enforcement: Refusal Article 22

- Sole ground for refusing enforcement is irreconcilability with an earlier judgment (from MS or third country)
  - Earlier judgment must involve same cause of action and same parties
  - Earlier judgment must fulfill conditions for recognition
  - Irreconcilability could not have been raised in proceedings leading to the ESC judgment
- Absolutely no review on the merits

Final Provisions

Evaluation

- Meets its objectives of swiftness, facilitation of access to justice and remedy to the distortion or the functioning of the internal market, abolition of exequatur
- Meets some of objectives of cost reduction (for parties)
- Simplification??
  - EPO is a simplified procedure
  - May not be simpler than domestic small claims procedure but has the advantage of bypassing exequatur
  - o But...

- 2010 proposal of a new regulation
- 2012 adoption of a new Regulation (EU Reg 1215/2012), which will be applied from 2015

Does it mean that Reg 861/2007 is moribond?
